About this factsheet

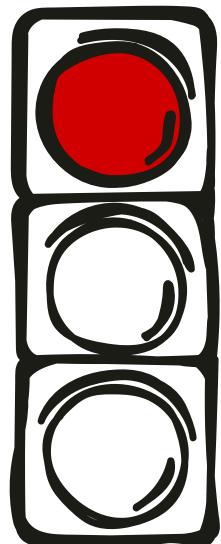

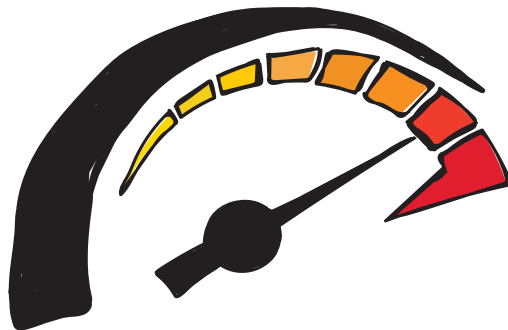

This factsheet is about changes to driver penalties

You will get penalties if you do not follow the road rules.

Penalties are

- money you have to pay
- demerit points you get

How can you get penalties?

If you don't follow the road rules, you can get caught by

- police
- a camera on the road

You can get a penalties letter

Straight away from police or

- in the mail

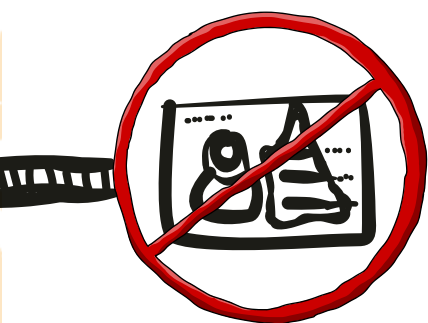

The penalties letter will tell you

- the money you have to pay
- how many demerit points you get

What are demerit points?

Demerit points are BAD, and are added to your drivers licence when you get caught breaking a road rule. People who follow the road rules, have zero demerit points.

If you get caught breaking the same road rule 2 times in 1 year, you may get extra demerit points. These are called DOUBLE DEMERIT points.

What happens if I get demerit points?

If you get too many demerit points, your drivers licence will be SUSPENDED.

This means you will have to stop driving for some time.

If you have a Learner or P Plate licence and receive over 4 demerit points, you will be suspended from driving.

If you have an Open drivers licence and get over 12 demerit points you will be suspended from driving.

What are the changes to penalties?

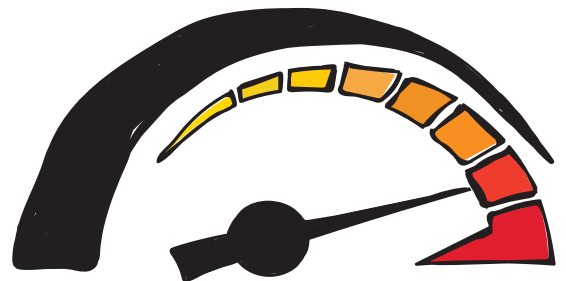

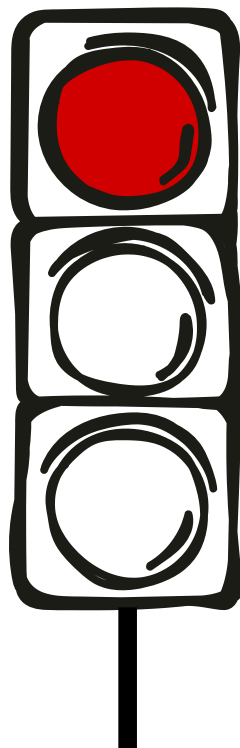

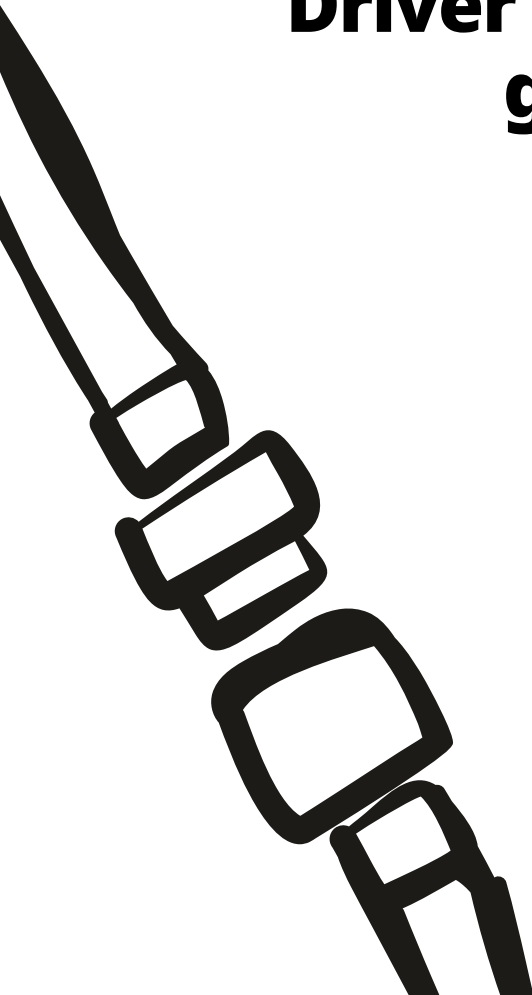

There are changes to penalties if you:

- do not stop at a red light
- drive over the speed limit
- do not wear a seatbelt
- do not wear a seatbelt the right way

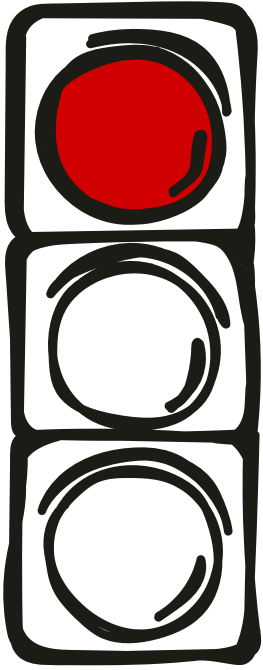

Driver penalties went up on 1 July 2025

What if you don't stop at a red light?

If you don't stop at a red light, you will

- have to pay more than $660
- get 3 demerit points

What if you drive over the speed limit?

Penalties will be bigger the more you speed over the speed limit.

speed 21 to 30km
per hour over, you
will have to pay more than

+ get 4
demerit
points

speed 31 to 40km
per hour over,
you will have to pay more than

+ get 6
demerit
points

speed over 40km
per hour over, you
will have to pay
more than

+ get 8
demerit points & 6 months
suspended licence

What if you do not wear a seatbelt?

If anyone in the car does not wear a seatbelt in the right way, you will

- have to pay more than $1250
- get 4 demerit points

To wear a seatbelt the right way it must be

- low on the hip
- over the shoulder
- over your chest and stomach

A baby or child must sit in a properly fitted child seat

What if I cannot pay my penalties?

If it is difficult for you to pay, you can

- pay in small amounts over time until it is all paid
- talk to SPER about other options
